Contents

I.	Resume Purpose, Design, & Mechanics.....	Page 3
II.	Key Elements of a Successful Resumes.....	Page 4
	This document is intended to guide you in creating your resume by outlining important types of information to include and tips for doing so in a professional and persuasive manner. Please note this is not intended as a template and the format employed may or may not best represent you. Consider meeting with a Peer Career Advisor to discuss how you might best layout your own resume.
III.	Transferable Skills & Action Verbs.....	Page 5
	Transferable skills are those that can be applied in a variety of industries and job functions. Considering which transferable skills you want to convey to employers is a great place to start when composing your resume. This list is a sampling of the types of skills you might highlight on your resume, in addition to those skills that are more specific to your major, intended industry, or job function.
	A sampling of action verbs is also included on this page. Be sure to use strong action verbs to begin each of your bulleted statements, previewing the skill to be exemplified through the accomplishment statement.
IV.	Chronological Resume Samples.....	Pages 6-11
	In this most commonly accepted resume format, job titles and employers are emphasized, starting with your most recent experiences to illustrate a progressive work history. Your skills and accomplishments are described through bulleted statements under each position. This resume type is recommended for people who have recently graduated with a bachelor's degree, those who are staying within the same career field, and candidates with few time gaps in their job history. This type is most often preferred by employers because it is easy to scan, highlights job titles, employers, and dates, and clearly ties candidates' skills and accomplishments to their work histories.
V.	Functional & Combination Resume Samples.....	Pages 12-13
	This format is an option for candidates who have changed employers frequently, have gaps in their employment history, or are hoping to transition to a new industry or unrelated job function. Functional resumes enable candidates to highlight transferable skills, placing less emphasis on employment dates, job titles, and employers.
VI.	Additional Career Center Resume Resources.....	Page 14

I. Resume Purpose, Design, & Mechanics

The purpose of a resume is to market yourself to employers by succinctly summarizing your education, experience, and skills, ultimately aiming to convince employers to invite you to interview. When conceptualizing your resume, think of it as a marketing tool, rather than a simple work history, as it is intended to promote you as the perfect candidate for the opportunity at hand.

Resume writing is an art, not a science. There is no one correct way to formulate a resume, but there are some best practices and standards that the Career Center recommends. Stand out from the crowd with high quality content and a clearly written, error-free document. Sequence the information from most important to least important with regard to your career objective. When constructing bullet points, aim to highlight accomplishments that exemplify the skills you possess and employers are seeking.

- ❖ Length: With a few rare exceptions, when applying for internships or entry-level jobs, students should keep their resume to 1 page. If you have difficulty narrowing down your resume, consider removing elements that are not closely related to the opportunities for which you are applying.
- ❖ Margins: Make your resume visually attractive. Use some whitespace to allow the reader's eye to rest. Using .5 inch to 1.5 inch margins is recommended.
- ❖ Font: Use a font that is easy to read. Times New Roman, Arial, and Courier New are good choices. A 10-12 point font size is recommended.
- ❖ Consistency: Keep the formatting consistent throughout your resume. For example, if you choose to bold a job title, make sure you bold every job title. Also, make sure that all of your bullet points, section headers, dates, etc. line up neatly on the page.
- ❖ Accuracy: Your resume, and all other job search materials, must be 100% error free. Be sure to carefully read through your resume, checking grammar, spelling, and punctuation. It is a good idea to have at least 2-3 people proofread it as well.
- ❖ Be Accomplishment-Orientated: Employers hire you for your skills and want to read about times when you have successfully utilized the skills they are seeking. Describe achievements, rather than listing duties, quantify outcomes whenever possible, and be sure to highlight your proficiency in both technical (industry or job function-specific) and transferable skills.
- ❖ Use Action Verbs: Strengthen your bullet points by beginning each with an action verb that previews the skill to be exemplified in that accomplishment statement. This allows a potential employer to more easily scan your resume for what he or she is seeking.
- ❖ Make it Clear and Be Succinct: Eliminate the pronoun "I" at the beginning of each bullet point as this is assumed. Avoid introductory and wind-up phrases such as "My duties included..." and "My responsibilities were..."
- ❖ Overall Appearance: Ask yourself and others if your document is easy to read and professional looking. Also, consider that the average recruiter may scan your resume for 30 seconds or less. Make sure that your most important information stands out.

- In this section include bulleted accomplishment statements, which provide examples of times you have successfully used the skills employers are seeking.
- Start with a strong action verb, then follow with an explanation of what you were doing, describe how you did it, and, when possible, include any outcomes that you achieved. Remember, statements should ultimately convey your proficiency in one or more skill sets of interest to the employer by way of providing an example of when you have used them.
- Consider the following questions to help you create more effective bullet points: What was the result/outcome of your work? What were your accomplishments? How did you help the organization? Organization, Your Job Title – City, State

Month Year - Month Year

- Using multiple experience sections is optional and allows you to emphasize (by placing it closer to the top) your most relevant experience. Experiences within a section should be listed in reverse chronological order.
- Positions within this section should be formatted like previous experience sections, but may or may not include bullet points.
- In an additional experience section, you can include work experiences that may not be directly related to the job you are applying to, but add to your credibility by exemplifying a progressive work history.
- Emphasize your transferable skills, those that can be taken from one experience and applied elsewhere.

Organization, Your Role (e.g. Member, Participant, Honoree, or Presenter) – City, State Month Year - Month Year

- This section can also be an opportunity to share your experiences as a leader, honors received, community involvement, professional development activities, or membership in organizations. As illustrated, replace “job title” with the role you played.
- Including bullet points is optional, depending on what you wish to convey to a potential employer.

ADDITIONAL SKILLS [List skills that are testable and concrete. Soft skills such as communication, organizational, and interpersonal skills should not be listed here, but rather incorporated into your bulleted accomplishment statements above.]
